

Canoja Pre-Launch Privacy Statement

Effective Date: October 2, 2026

Last Updated: October 2, 2026

Canoja (“Canoja,” “we,” “our,” or “us”) respects your privacy. This Privacy Statement explains how we collect, use, disclose, and protect information when you visit Canoja.com, join our early-access list, submit an inquiry, or otherwise interact with our pre-launch website.

This Privacy Statement applies to Canoja’s pre-launch website and related communications. Additional privacy terms may apply when Canoja launches its mobile applications, consumer discovery platform, operator services, ordering, delivery, artificial intelligence features, or other future services.

1. Information We Collect

Information You Provide

We may collect information that you voluntarily provide, including:

- Name
- Email address
- Telephone number
- Company or organization name
- Job title or role
- Location, market, or region
- Operator or business information
- Partnership, investor, media, or other inquiry information
- Information included in messages submitted to Canoja
- Communication and launch-notification preferences

You are not required to provide personal information simply to browse the public portions of our pre-launch website.

Information Collected Automatically

When you visit Canoja.com, certain technical information may be collected automatically, including:

- IP address
- Browser type
- Device type
- Operating system
- Pages visited
- Date and time of access

- Referring website
- General geographic location derived from your IP address
- Website interaction, security, and performance information

This information may be collected through cookies, analytics technologies, server logs, and similar tools.

2. How We Use Your Information

Canoja may use information collected through the pre-launch website to:

- Provide launch and early-access information
- Respond to questions or inquiries
- Communicate with prospective consumers, operators, partners, investors, media representatives, and other interested parties
- Manage early-access registrations
- Prepare for Canoja's commercial launch
- Understand interest in Canoja by market or region
- Improve website functionality and visitor experience
- Analyze website traffic and performance
- Protect our website and systems from fraud, misuse, and security threats
- Maintain business and administrative records
- Comply with applicable legal obligations

We may also use aggregated or de-identified information for analytics, research, business planning, and product development.

3. Pre-Launch Communications

If you request early access, launch notifications, or Canoja updates, we may use the contact information you provide to communicate with you.

You may unsubscribe from promotional communications at any time by using the unsubscribe option included in an email or by contacting Canoja.

Submitting an ordinary business, operator, partnership, investor, media, or support inquiry does not require you to consent to unrelated promotional communications.

4. Age Requirement

Canoja's cannabis-related consumer services are intended for adults 21 years of age or older, where legally permitted.

Our pre-launch website may ask visitors to confirm that they are at least 21 before accessing certain content.

The age-confirmation process is not intended to collect your date of birth or government-issued identification unless Canoja expressly informs you otherwise.

Canoja does not knowingly seek personal information from individuals under 21 through its cannabis-related consumer services.

5. Location Information

The pre-launch website does not require you to provide precise device location simply to browse Canoja.com.

We may derive an approximate geographic area from technical information such as an IP address.

Future Canoja applications or discovery features may request permission to access more precise location information to provide nearby search results. Those features will be addressed in an updated privacy notice before or when they are introduced.

6. Cookies and Analytics

Canoja may use cookies and similar technologies for purposes such as:

- Website functionality
- Security
- Remembering visitor preferences
- Age-confirmation functionality
- Website analytics
- Performance measurement
- Understanding visitor engagement

Where required by applicable law, Canoja will provide appropriate cookie notices, consent mechanisms, or opt-out choices.

Browser settings may also allow you to block or delete cookies. Some website functionality may be affected if cookies are disabled.

7. How We May Share Information

Canoja may share information with service providers that help us operate the pre-launch website and business, including providers of:

- Website hosting
- Cloud infrastructure
- Customer relationship management
- Email communications

- Website analytics
- Cybersecurity
- Technical support
- Business administration

These organizations may process information on Canoja's behalf for the purpose of providing their services.

Canoja may also disclose information:

- When required by applicable law
- In response to lawful governmental or judicial requests
- To protect Canoja, its users, systems, or property
- To investigate fraud, misuse, or security incidents
- In connection with a merger, financing, acquisition, restructuring, sale, or transfer of all or part of the business

Canoja does not sell information submitted through its pre-launch contact or early-access forms in exchange for money.

8. Public Business and Licensing Information

Canoja may collect and process publicly available information regarding cannabis operators, businesses, licenses, registrations, and related regulatory information.

Such information may come from governmental agencies, regulatory authorities, public registries, operator submissions, publicly accessible websites, and other permitted sources.

Canoja is not a government licensing agency or regulator.

Any licensing or compliance information ultimately displayed through Canoja is intended to provide informational context and should not replace information published by the relevant licensing or regulatory authority.

9. Data Retention

We retain personal information only for as long as reasonably necessary for the purpose for which it was collected or as required for legal, regulatory, security, accounting, or legitimate business purposes.

When information is no longer reasonably required, we may delete or de-identify it in accordance with applicable requirements.

10. Security

Canoja uses reasonable administrative, technical, and organizational measures designed to protect information against unauthorized access, loss, misuse, alteration, or disclosure.

However, no website, Internet transmission, or electronic storage system can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

11. Your Privacy Rights

Depending upon where you live and applicable privacy law, you may have rights concerning your personal information, including the right to:

- Request access to information about you
- Request correction of inaccurate information
- Request deletion of certain information
- Request a portable copy of certain information
- Withdraw consent where processing depends upon consent
- Opt out of certain marketing communications
- Object to or restrict certain processing
- Opt out of certain targeted advertising or data-sharing activities where applicable
- Appeal certain privacy-request decisions where applicable

Canoja will not discriminate against an individual for exercising a privacy right provided by applicable law.

We may take reasonable steps to verify your identity before fulfilling certain requests.

12. International Users

Canoja is developing a cross-border platform. Information submitted to Canoja may be processed in the United States, Canada, or other jurisdictions in which Canoja or its authorized service providers operate.

Privacy laws in these jurisdictions may differ.

Where applicable law requires additional safeguards for international transfers, Canoja will implement appropriate measures.

13. Third-Party Websites

Canoja.com may contain links to third-party websites, regulatory authorities, operators, partners, social-media platforms, or other external services.

Canoja does not control the privacy practices of those third parties. Their privacy policies and terms govern information you provide directly to them.

14. Future Canoja Services

This Privacy Statement covers Canoja's pre-launch website.

As additional Canoja services become available, including consumer accounts, precise-location services, operator profiles, product discovery, Canoja Verified, Ask Canoja, Canoja Intelligence, ordering, payment, or delivery capabilities, Canoja may update this statement or provide additional privacy notices explaining the information associated with those services.

15. Changes to This Privacy Statement

Canoja may update this Privacy Statement as our business, website, technologies, services, and legal obligations evolve.

When changes are made, the “Last Updated” date at the top of this statement will be revised.

Material changes will be communicated when required by applicable law.

16. Contact Us

Questions, concerns, or requests concerning this Privacy Statement or Canoja's privacy practices may be submitted through the Contact Us section of Canoja.com.
